

Dream For Years, Swimming Pool Here If Water Tests Ok.

Newmarket—The need for a swimming pool has been a popular subject here for many years and, at last, it looks like youngsters' dreams of the old swimmin' hole right in town have come true.

At a meeting last Friday night, the town council designated $2,000 toward its special "swimming pool" committee and the go-ahead sign was given to dam up Bogartown Creek between Lydia St. and Timothy St., subject to the approval of health authorities.

Rudy Renzius, chairman of the special committee, said the job could be done in two weeks or less and that they are only waiting for final approval before going ahead. Tentative approval has been given by the department of health after it was given a report that no sewers emptied into Bogartown Creek and that the pool would have a continuous flow of water. Water tests are now being made.

Last fall the mayor first had suggested looking into the possibility of damming the creek and he has been pushing the idea regularly ever since. Reeve Arthur Evans said Friday night that the firemen had been considering such a project for some time but that it could never be decided whether to build a swimming pool or a wading pool. He suggested that the town do something with the stream near the World War I memorial on D'Arcy St. for a wading pool.

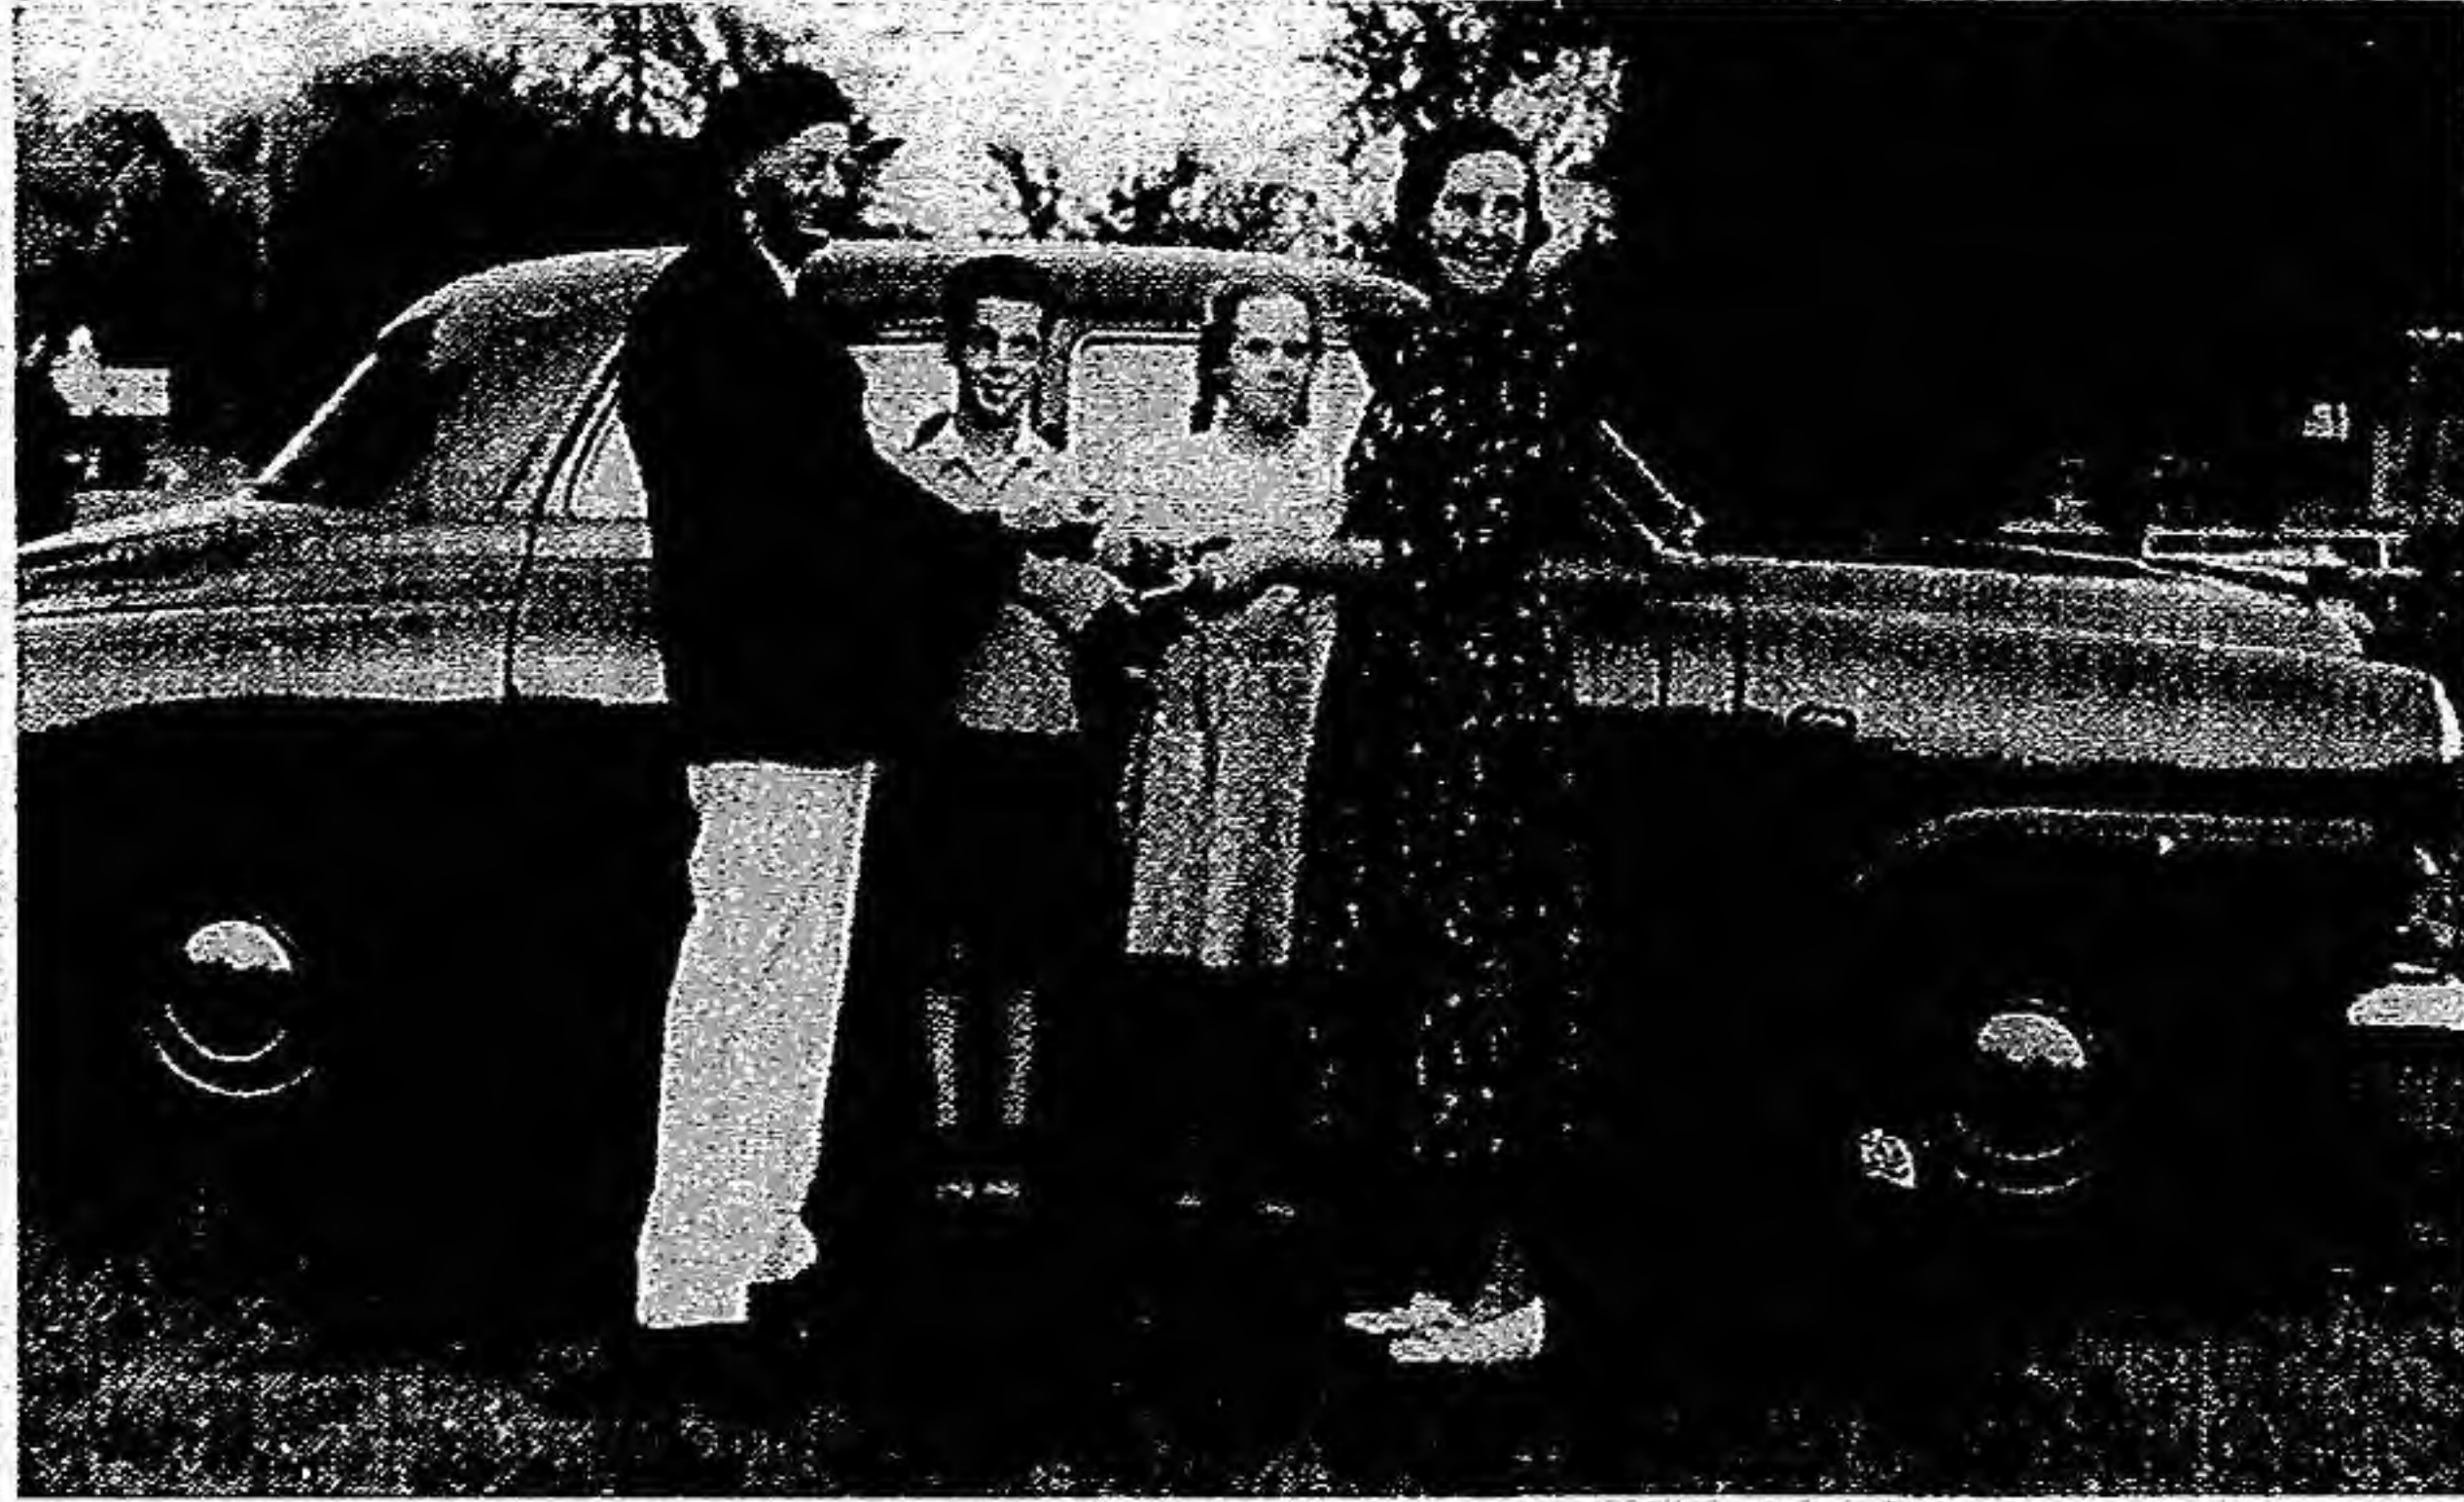

"There is already a cement bottom and sides where the stream runs through now and a small dam could be put there at little cost to provide a wading pool," said Mr. Evans. "Why spend $2,000 when you only have to spend $20 on this?" he said. Members of council said that "kids want to swim, not

School Children Win Humane Society Prizes

Newmarket—Two junior pupils of Mrs. Myrtle Purcell were successful in the art competition in North York, sponsored by the Humane Society. Barbara Rhodes, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Rhodes, placed second in the Grade II class thereby winning 75 cents for her colored drawing of a Robin. Donna Sainsbury of Grade I, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sainsbury, won first prize and $1 for her excellent Scottie Dog done in crayon.

Mr. Evans' stream was too narrow. For many years, there has been no place for children to swim in or near Newmarket. In recent years, the Lions club has been running buses to Lake Simcoe for occasional swims. Some older children made the long trek to Glenville pond but it has been excluded as a swimming hole this year. Recently, the Newmarket board of health has erected "swimming prohibited" signs at most streams within the town limits, including Fairway Lake.

If the plan for the swimming pond is accepted by health authorities, the town will excavate the area north of Lydia St. where there is considerable available property and put in 14 loads of sand for the bottom. A temporary dam will be constructed so that the depth at one end will be from four to six feet, becoming more shallow at the south end of the pool. The dam will be so constructed that the water can be let out every night. There will be dressing room facilities, probably tents this year, and the swimming area will be supervised, said Mr. Renzius.

Mrs. Esther Baxter, Yonge St., just south of Poplar Bank, receives from Bert Ward the keys of the car she won at the Newmarket Veterans' Association carnival Saturday, June 18, in Newmarket. With her are her two children, Billy and Betty. The winning of the car came as "a great surprise" to Mrs. Baxter and her husband, Fred. The ticket on the car was sold to Mrs. Baxter at Mount Albert. The Baxters have a car but it is in poor shape, says Mrs. Baxter, and their new car is most welcome. Photo by L. Wright for Budd.

BAND THIRD AT WATERLOO RAIN HAZARD

Newmarket—The two town bands attended the annual band festival at Waterloo last Saturday where the Citizens' Band won a third place bronze medal, and the Newmarket Trumpet Band was unfortunate in getting caught in torrential rains which ruined some of the band's drums.

Just before the contest started, the rains came and because there was not adequate accommodation under cover, some of the units were left out including the Newmarket Trumpet Band. According to the judges' remarks, there was a better showing last year although the boys themselves felt they did better on Saturday. A full report of the judges is not expected for another two weeks.

The Waterloo Musical Festival sponsored by the Waterloo Music Society which had been an annual event for 30 years was resumed in 1946 after war interruption. It is the largest competition for bands and band instrument solos in Ontario.

A busload of players and enthusiasts left Newmarket at 10.30 a.m., lunched and practised in Acton Park and performed afterwards at Waterloo Park. The Citizens' Band stood third in a close competition where it was required to play a test piece and a hymn or march tune. Four bands were in this class of towns under 10,000 with 35 players or less. Order of the final standing was Leamington, winning the trophy and gold medal; Norwich, silver medal; Newmarket, bronze medal; and Welland taking last place with points being very close.

Frank Burling of the Newmarket Trumpet Band won a first prize in solo bugling.

Holland Authority Urged Upon Council

Urge Establishment Of Conservation Unit

Aurora—It was announced by Councillor Harold Pringle, Aurora, this week that following a consultation with A. H. Richardson, chief conservation engineer for Ontario, a resolution passed by the Aurora council urging the establishment of a Holland River Conservation Authority would be sent this week to the department of planning and development, Toronto.

If two or more such resolutions are received from councils in the area concerned, the department of planning and development will arrange a meeting of the representatives of the various councils at which the conservation authority will be set up. It is expected that resolutions from the other councils concerned will be sent next week.

Inspect Test Plots July 27 Wheat Day

York County Improvement Association is making arrangements to hold a monster Wheat Field Day at Leitchfield Farm, in Markham township, on Wednesday, July 27, when wheat growers from Guelph to Peterborough will see wheat varieties being tested on two-acre plots.

For the past five years wheat variety tests have been carried on at Leitchfield Farm on No. 7 highway where a large acreage of winter wheat is grown. The test plots are part of a 20-acre field which will be combined the afternoon of the Wheatland Day by various makes of combines. It is interesting to note that the wheat on these plots is filling remarkably well in spite of the dry weather which prevailed up to last Friday evening when a nice rain fell.

GRANTS $300

Newmarket—The annual grant of $300 to the Newmarket Trumpet band was authorized by the town council last Friday night.

Newmarket—A letter urging municipalities in the Holland River valley to form a conservation authority in the district was read at town council meeting last Friday night. The letter was from the Community Planning Association of Canada.

The association advised that the municipalities request the minister of planning and development to approve of the establishment of a Holland River authority. Reeve Arthur D. Evans said it was necessary that the municipalities have a meeting together first. He said that Aurora would probably be calling a meeting before September.

The letter also advised that communities in the Lake Simcoe region "take steps under the planning act to designate land uses and prepare plans for development and avoid haphazard growth." It suggested that urban centres list their facilities with the trade and industry branch of the department of planning and the industrial divisions of the Canadian banks and railways in order to encourage location of desirable industry in their area.

These recommendations were an outcome of the recent citizens' planning conference for the Lake Simcoe region held at Jackson's Point.

Change Of Season Change Of Weather?

Golden Glow says with the summer season commencing and the sun again travelling south we should look for a change in the weather. Today, Tuesday, June 28, the sun is beaming down on us but a week ago was the summer solstice, when the sun stands still for a day and looks longingly at the north pole before starting back on its long journey south to the stopping place of the winter solstice, when it again stands still for a day before joyfully heading north to bring us spring in March.

Well, there was a new moon on Sunday, so surely all the signs point to a change of weather. When you read this on Thursday we will know whether it means still better (if possible) or cooler weather.

Cars, Bands Escort Smith To His Home

Liberal supporters celebrated their election victory Monday night with something of the return to the torch-light processions of other elections. As the count of votes left no doubt of the result, the large crowd at the Liberal committee rooms in the Boy Scout hall overflowed into the streets.

The Newmarket Citizens' Band and the Trumpet Band, which were completing their practices on Monday, were drafted for an impromptu parade with victor J. E. "Jack" Smith on a truck in their midst up Main St. and down Millard past the Progressive Conservative committee rooms. At the foot of Main St. the bands were embarked on trucks, and the motor cavalcade headed out to Yonge St. where they circled through the grounds of the home of the former postmaster general, Col. W. P. Mulock, and then continued down to Aurora.

The bands debarked from their trucks at the outskirts of Aurora and paraded through

IS IN HOSPITAL

Newmarket—Dr. S. J. Boyd received word that his son, Franklin, was in an accident at the hydro power plant where he is working. He will lose some fingers from his right hand. He is in Orillia hospital.

Bring In Drag Line Until Pond Dries

Newmarket—Machinery used to excavate Fairway Lake was dispensed with last Thursday morning because it had started "bogging down," according to a report at council meeting last Friday night by the engineer and the special committee for the project.

"The carrier was only picking up four yards at a time," said town engineer Denne Bosworth. Drag line machinery was to be used this week, according to the engineer. Last week, two bulldozers and a carrier were employed with an agreement that they would be taken out if they were not doing a worthwhile job. On an hourly basis, cost of machinery last week was about $500, said the engineer. A large area of the lake bottom was lowered one foot.

The drag line method uses a "clam" type shovel which would be "cast out and dragged back." It would not accomplish as much as the method employed last week under ordinary conditions but was held the feasible method until the lake bottom dries. Reeve Arthur Evans stated that the earth would now dry "ten times faster" with the top removed and that the heavy machinery may be used again if the area dries fast enough.

"Operation Fairway Lake" was started last summer with an initial expenditure of $5,000 which was shared by the town and the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. An expenditure of the same amount has been planned for this summer to complete clearing out of the pond, again with the company and the town going 50-50 on the cost.

Aurora Legion Field Day Will Run August 19-20

Aurora—It was disclosed this week that the Canadian Legion, Branch 385, Aurora, plan to open their field day, Friday evening, August 19 and Saturday, August 20, with a monster parade to the Town Park. Expected to be one of the largest and best parades ever staged in Aurora, it will feature a display of pageantry depicting local history. Included will be a multitude of floats, beautiful girls and bands.

The parade, which is under the direction of Alf Bolsby, has received enthusiastic support from local business men following a special meeting Monday evening,

With the first poll reporting showing him in front, J. E. "Jack" Smith piled up a lead which was never threatened as he was re-elected on Monday with a total of 18,935, a clear 4,500 majority over his nearest rival, Progressive Conservative Arthur Walwyn (14,409). The C.C.F. candidate, Arch Woods, polled 5,605, losing his deposit for the second time in a row.

Dixon's Hill was the first poll to report to Returning Officer Fred Hare with Smith, 101, Walwyn 68, Woods 4.

In Newmarket, the Liberal candidate led in all polls, piling up substantial increases over 1945 in the three wards. The Progressive Conservatives voting was lower in each of the three wards. Woods showed gains in St. George and St. Andrew but dropped 13 votes in St. Patrick.

Newmarket totals showed Smith gained some 400 over his 1945 count, while the Progressive Conservatives dropped 75 and the C.C.F. gained 59. Totals were (1945 figures in brackets) Liberals 1,368 (960), Progressive Conservatives 835 (900), C.C.F. 279 (220).

In Aurora, the Liberals picked up 202 more votes than in 1945 for a total of 859 (657). The Progressive Conservatives gained 14 votes for 742 (728) and the C.C.F. almost doubled their 1945 count for 156 (82). Smith led in all wards except Ward 4 where Walwyn polled eight more votes.

The Liberal lead in Newmarket and Aurora was reflected in all other municipal totals except at Sutton and Woodbridge, traditionally conservative strongholds, but even there, the Conservative majority was comparatively small with Smith polling 284 to Walwyn's 317 in Sutton, and 252 to Walwyn's 324 in Woodbridge, home of the Progressive Conservative provincial representative, Lex Mackenzie.

Biggest upset came in the south end of the riding where the C.C.F. were confident of a good showing. Smith polled a majority with 3,635 against Walwyn's 3,443 and Woods' 1,212 in Ward 2, and 2,555 to Walwyn's 1,779 and Wood's 1,930 in Ward 3.

Meanwhile the Legion have made it known that they are open for suggestions. "The welcome sign is on the mat," said Mr. Bolsby. "There is no reason why Aurora can't stage a real community effort that will be a big attraction and really advertise Aurora. All suggestions are welcome."

The Kettleby Cemetery Co. will hold its annual decoration day on Sunday, July 3, at 3.30 p.m. D.S.T.

News From Mt. Albert

The June meeting of the Cheerio club was held on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Brooks with 34 ladies present. A trio of Mrs. Cupples, Mrs. Rate and Miss Jean Cupples was much enjoyed. Ten dollars was donated to the United church mission council fresh air camp.

Mrs. Theaker gave an interesting talk on the work carried on in the home missions by the W.M.S. of the United church.

Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. M. Shillinglaw were in charge of the devotional and social programs.

The town dump is open on the second Tuesday, garbage collection day, and the last Wednesday of each month. The town fathers are trying to keep the dump under control with the co-operation of the town citizens. Anyone found dumping over the fences is liable for a fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Draper and family are holidaying with Mr. Draper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Draper.

An interesting ball game took place at the park last week when Uxbridge businessmen played Mount Albert men with a score of 23-18 in favor of the home team.

Mount Albert United church Sunday-school will hold its picnic on Wednesday, July 6, at Innisfil park on Lake Simcoe.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Shields, Toronto, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. Shields' brother, Mr. H. Shields.

Congratulations to Ann Carruthers who has passed her second year at university with second class honors, also Marie Broad and Jennette Harrison who have passed at normal school and now are full fledged teachers.

The next window show will be held at Miss Leek's store on Tuesday, July 5, when the following will be shown: spike monkshood; best penny, any color; collection of peonies; bowl of pansies; spike of lily, any variety; three sprays of columbine; collection of sweet william; living-room bouquet. Flowers in from ten to 11 o'clock.

What a wonderful thing for the children and grown-ups, too, if we had had during this great hot spell our much talked of swimming pool. Who is going to start this? Let it be soon or another year will have gone by and nothing done.

Keswick—Looking at the massive framework of what will be the North Gwillimbury recreational centre, Ted Donnell, Keswick, said Friday afternoon "There will be no finer recreational centre of its type in Ontario." The large building which was started last month at Keswick will house a skating arena with larger than regulation size ice surface, heated dressing rooms, an assembly hall and two rows of seats around the ice surface. The building has an all wood framework and will be covered with aluminum.

Contract price for the building is $40,000 and everything is being donated, from money to publicity. North Gwillimbury's public campaign for its recreational centre has already brought a donation in the form of a heating system which will go in the basement that has already been constructed taking $1,000 off the contract price, another donation of $1,700 worth of electrical equipment plus many large cash donations of more than $10,000. Taking in government grants against the contract price, the campaign now stands at the half-way mark.

The new building whose shining aluminum surface will be seen as far away as the Queensville hill, seven miles south, will offer much to the township people and to the summer people. Facilities will be made for summer sports, as well as winter, such as tennis, badminton, lacrosse, volleyball and it will be a good place to go on a wet day at the lake.

A large door at the north end of the building will allow the entrance of trucks in to the arena which now has a gravel bed, so that market gardeners will be able to bring their produce to the centre. Spacious grounds around the building allow for a baseball diamond and a sloping hill on the east offers possibilities of terracing for spectators to watch the bowling greens for the older people if they are interested.

At Keswick there are crowded school conditions like many other communities have. It has been proposed that the school section rent the new assembly hall in the recreational centre for an additional junior school room. A new teacher has been hired for the coming year with no place for her class and this, the recreational committee says, would be a possible temporary solution to the problem.

Below the assembly hall which stretches the whole width of the arena, will be four dressing rooms and refreshment booths, all heated. In every way, it promises to be an ideal centre for sports and meetings for the surrounding communities in the North Gwillimbury. While work on construction goes on, the campaign for funds continues through July toward the objective.

The church was filled with a large congregation, together with the young men's Four Square club and their leader, Mr. J. C. Purdy. The sermon by the pastor, Rev. M. R. A movement is under foot for the organization of a ball team and for all who are interested, there is a practice on the school grounds Friday night, July 1. The drought is of real concern to farmers in the district. Seems it rains all around except this section.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Wainstey and daughters were weekend guests of Mrs. B. Hendricks. Mr. and Mrs. C. Roberts were also Sunday guests.

Summer Theatre Opens July 1 At Jackson's Point

Jackson's Point—Alfred Mulock, son of Mrs. Adele Mulock of Aurora and great-grandson of Sir William Mulock, has returned to Canada with the intention of making professional theatre in this country.

A set of barns has been converted into a large legitimate summer theatre called Mulock's Red Barn Theatre at Jackson's Point, Lake Simcoe, opening on July 1 with "The Little Foxes." A permanent company of actors straight from Broadway will be augmented by talent drawn from the existing Canadian theatre channels.

Mr. Mulock expects to build a chain of legitimate stage summer theatres across Canada as an extra attraction for tourists coming to Canada. Mulock's Red Barn Theatre at Jackson's Point will be the first of its kind.

Isabel Bonner will be the leading lady of the company this summer. She was with "The Biggest Thief in Town," the most recent of the Lee Saberson productions on Broadway this season. She has also been featured in "Uncle Harry," with Dorothy McGuire in "Let Freedom Ring," and many others. Her first role this summer at Mulock's Red Barn Theatre will be the lead, Regina, in "The Little Foxes," opening on July 1.

Joseph Kramm, well known Broadway director, will stage five of the nine productions this summer at Mulock's Red Barn Theatre, Jackson's Point. Mr. Kramm recently won the acclaim of the New York Critics for his staging of "Hope is the Thing with Feathers." Last summer he directed Jose Ferrer and Eugene Leontovich in "Twentieth Century" and June Havoc in "Anna Christie" for the New York Theatre Guild.

IS HOME FROM Y.C.H.

Newmarket — Mrs. John O'Connor, who has been ill in York County hospital, is home now and is improving.

And now I have another garden I want to tell about. It is really amazing to see such wonderful gardens in this time of drought for, as we all are aware, water is scarce and rocky gardens are the hardest hit—and this garden now has wonderful rockeries. I want to take you with me on a tour of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Renzius' garden, the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Bogart, and later of their son, Mr. Edgar Bogart.

Yes, our former citizen, Edgar Bogart, to whom our town of Newmarket is eternally grateful! Really, none of us know just how grateful we should be, for he was a quiet worker and had he lived longer would have carried out many more of his delightful schemes. As you know, he had great ambitions for his home garden on the corner of Prospect Ave. a little north of the high school on the west slope of the hill above the pond. If Edgar Bogart could come back I know he would be gratified and delighted to see his beloved garden still looking so lovely.

From early spring to late fall, the Renzius garden has wonderful treasures for flower lovers. I missed seeing the lovely row upon row of hyacinths which bloomed almost before the snow had gone—but I saw the prettily shaped leaves of the plants all bordering flower beds, and I can just imagine how delightful they were.

One who has never worked in a garden can't appreciate the work done in that old-time, old-world "pleasance." It means daily, almost hourly, care and attention! A garden does not look after itself once it is created and Mr. and Mrs. Renzius have given it that understanding care that has resulted in a perfect little paradise. And what's more they love to have their friends enjoy its beauties, too.

The old-time picket fence that Mr. Bogart loved, with its garden gate, the old mill stone in the corner, flat on the ground, with a tree growing through the circular hole in the centre, the same old mill stone once grinding wheat out at the Bogarttown mill in pioneer days. The picturesque old mill and Bogarttown dam and pond are now only a memory to a few old timers and I think I'll try to recall a bit in another article about my early girlhood days when it was a joyous occasion to be taken there for a walk on a Sunday afternoon.

I forgot to look and see if the old pump still stands—many a cool drink we had there in old high school days, making that an excuse for a visit to our beloved friend, Mrs. Bogart, Edgar's mother. When Edgar built her the little summer house at the north west corner we took as much delight in it as she did and a cup of tea and cookies with her there was a superlative treat. In the winter it was the sunroom window in the dining-room he built overlooking the pond and now Mrs. Renzius dispenses hospitality there just as Mrs. Bogart did and they carry on the tradition of that home.

And the garden! As you go down the flagged walk and flagged steps to a lower level of the rockery there are two pedestals and on each an old fashioned iron pot of "sainted" memory, with a flowering house-plant in each. Just such charming little touches and surprises all over that most delightful garden! Flowers of every sort everywhere, rockery plants, hen and chickens—even to the dear little blue flax that you must get up early in the morning if you really want to see its beauty. It is like a piece of the sky come down to pause a while in a garden for our delight. The peonies, the lupins, the golden candelabra lilies—oh dear me, if I go on it will sound like a seed catalogue, for there was everything, even to tiny Johnny jump-ups.

If I don't end I'll have Mr. Editor getting busy with his big shears and the waste paper basket—but I could say a whole lot more! Why, I haven't told half! What about the out-of-doors fireplace and the tables and chairs and picnic table? Oh dear—well, I'll end here but I still have lovely memories of Mr. and Mrs. Renzius' garden to tell about again.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We have wondered many times in the past seven weeks if the election campaign was, after all, only secondary to the war between the Toronto Star and the McCullagh papers. No effort was spared to discredit the opposition; the political campaign was more often used as a means to this end than it was reported in a thorough and unbiased way as befitting news of great public importance.

We can not see how any of the papers benefitted from this. On the contrary, all of them have lost to a large degree public confidence in their impartiality in reporting the news. The Toronto Star belittled in its news column every action of the Progressive Conservatives. The McCullagh papers did the same of the Liberals. The reports of the St. Laurent meeting at Maple Leaf Gardens in the three Toronto dailies read like those of three different meetings.

Climax of the newspaper war came when Mr. McCullagh went on the air to charge the Star with receiving a political pay-off in the form of a rebate of the newsprint sales tax on the Star Weekly of $108,000 annually. The sales tax rebate is given magazines by the government to help counteract the effects of American competition. The publishers of the Star Weekly claim their paper is a magazine since it does not carry a news section like the Montreal Standard, to which Mr. McCullagh compared the Star Weekly, and is printed well in advance of its release date.

Mr. McCullagh made this charge on Friday night under the guise of a non-political speech. However, the question of the sales tax has been argued among newspaper associations for some time and is no secret, so one would be pardoned if he doubted Mr. McCullagh's intentions in injecting this issue into the election campaign at the last moment.

There were light moments in the newspaper war: the Star's fun with a highly colored report in the Telegram about Mr. Drew's approach to the Canadian charges is one example. The Telegram reporter said that a "little growl" came into Mr. Drew's voice when he mentioned the sale of the Canadian plant to the Electric Boat Co. A Star editorial writer, with a keen sense of satire, exploited this "little growl" for all it was worth. One item we recall consisted of four dictionary definitions of a "growler" including "a receptacle for carrying beer". The treatment effectively prohibited repetition of that kind of writing in the Telegram.

Pictures played a large part in the campaign. The Star noted in one of its reports on its election coverage that some 4,000 photos were taken by Star photographers, and that we can well believe after watching Star reporter-photographer teams in action at political meetings. However, the Star's photographs of Mr. St. Laurent with children were overdone, and after day-in, day-out repetitions of this sort of picture, many of the Star's readers were turning against it.

The Telegram should have some sort of award for poor taste because of two of its pictures, one of Sir Basil Zaharoff, printed with that of the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe and a top executive of the Electric Boat Co. and the other of a lone heckler who had been ejected from the Liberal meeting at Maple Leaf Gardens. The first was most misleading, suggesting a sinister arrangement between Mr. Howe and the international arms agent, Sir Basil. Nowhere did we notice that the Telegram recorded that Sir Basil had been dead for the past 15 years or so. The picture of the heckler was accompanied by a colorful account of how he had been thrown out. We witnessed the incident and find it difficult to reconcile the heckler's version of what happened with what we saw.

Mrs. J. J. Watson arrived from New York a few days ago to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Phillips, Yonge St.

There are 59 candidates writing the entrance and public school leaving exams at Newmarket this week.

During the storm last Sunday the residence of R. H. Tillett, Roche's Point, was struck by lightning. The chimney was struck and it passed through three rooms to the cellar destroying carpets and furniture.

The Editorials:

The Liberal Victory

The causes of the Liberal victory are varied. On a national scale, the Liberal sweep Monday indicates a general endorsement of the party's administration of the country. It is also a well deserved rebuke to the Progressive Conservative leader for the manner in which he conducted his campaign.

The Liberal victory in Quebec showed that the Duplessis machine could be stalled. It showed, too, a heartening breach in the barrier which isolates the thinking of so many Quebecers from the facts of life in this century. Mr. St. Laurent is a native son and that undoubtedly contributed to his success. However, Mr. St. Laurent is also one of the architects of the North Atlantic Pact which commits Canada to a part in the defence of other nations. Quebec's attitude in the past has not encouraged such alliances. Mr. St. Laurent went a step farther. He told them that he would introduce conscription if he believed it necessary. But for all that, his party won all but two seats in Quebec.

Another local upset which suggests several causes occurred in the traditionally Conservative Toronto where the Liberals captured six seats and re-elected a Liberal in the seventh. The Progressive Conservative association with Duplessis and Houde was a strong factor in this upset. The Charitable Gifts Act, passed by a Conservative provincial government, and a growing personal dislike of the Progressive Conservative leader were others.

The battle between the Toronto Star and the McCullagh papers which at times made the political campaign look like a side issue was the most important influence. Doubtless there have been newspaper feuds in the past just as bitter but none of recent years. It came to a climax on the eve of the election with Mr. McCullagh charging the Star received "political pay-offs" and the Star replying on the Saturday before election with a front page which looked like an election poster. On the strength of the election returns, the Star won the first round.

The C.C.F. was hard hit by the results, losing over half of its representation. Both old parties used the C.C.F. to lever more votes for themselves. The Liberals called in C.C.F. votes on a beat-Drew ticket. The threat of C.C.F. domination of the Liberals was used by the Progressive Conservatives in an effort to swing right-wing Liberals the Tory way.

The Liberals further subtracted C.C.F. strength by pointing out that while Liberal social security policies did not include certain points of the C.C.F. program, notably paternalism financed by a planned state, the Liberals were in a position to provide the social security they promised. This choice, combined with the beat-Drew front, was particularly applicable in the south end of York North which nominally polls a decided C.C.F. vote but which in this election gave Mr. Smith the majority.

The Liberals have the majority they asked for. They have before them five years of unthreatened administration. Before they go to the country again, they must demonstrate that they have not abused that majority, and at the same time carried out to the letter their promises to the people.

Can't Afford Delay

Members of the county council inspected Vivian forest recently where they could see for themselves what can be accomplished by a program of reforestation. Where there was once nothing but a dreary waste of sand, a constant menace to the surrounding farm land, stands now acre after acre of trees in various stages of growth. The blow sand has been anchored by the forest cover and the stream which once ran through the area but had dried as the land cover deteriorated has been restored.

Vivian forest was begun some 20 years ago as a joint project of the provincial and county governments. The same vision which inspired the Vivian forest is required now in the Holland River valley if the destruction of land in the valley is to be checked. To the east and to the west of the river, huge patches of once arable land have become useless. Lacking the soil cover which absorbs rain water and holds the water of melting snow in spring, this land contributes its share to the threat of failing water supplies for Aurora and Newmarket.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Exaggeration? In the spring, the Holland River has a heavy flow, thousands of little streams cascade across fields with their cargo of soil. In the summer, the Holland is a trickle, and the streams in the field have dried, leaving only the ragged path of their spring-time course. There was a time when the flow of the Holland was constant, and the land itself well watered from thousands of constant springs.

To ensure unfailing water supplies in this area, conservation must become a way of life. The machinery for the establishment of a Holland River Conservation Authority is set forth in provincial legislation. Whitechurch and King, two of the municipalities which would be a part of a Holland River authority, are already members of the Humber Valley authority and can bring their experience to the establishment of the former. It must be done. Why delay any longer?

Farmers Protest Prices

As the drought has continued, farmers have been unable to feed their livestock and have been forced to sell. The result has been that the price has been driven down with dismayingly rapidity and hold-overs have increased at the stockyards. The farmers have been caught in circumstances over which they have no control, circumstances which should be familiar to them from the past. They must gamble the high cost of feeding their stock now against good prices for it in the future, or take a heavy loss now by disposing of their stock but saving the cost of feeding it as drought continues.

Caught in these circumstances, Whitechurch farmers have protested to the minister of agriculture for Ontario against the fluctuations in livestock prices, just as in similar circumstances, they and others have also protested in the past. Sometimes, their protests brought some relief; more often than not, however, nothing was done. What can be done which will be lasting in its effect? Agriculture, by its very variety, its vulnerability to natural hazard, its dependence upon a never constant consumer market, the wide range in ability found among farmers is not easily fitted into an efficient system of protection for the individual farmer. And it is questionable whether protection in the form of subsidies and other artificial aids is best for agriculture. Undoubtedly there is need for closer regulation of marketing practices when price to the consumer climbs while price to the farmer drops as it has in the past two or three weeks, but any form of protection like floor prices or subsidies is always open to these disadvantages: they discourage the improvement of poor farming practices; they are subject to change with the change of government; and the money to support these protective devices comes as much from the people who benefit from them as from any others in the form of income and other taxes.

The answer is, we believe, not in the application of protective measures like subsidies but in ensuring the farmer prices for his produce sufficiently high in good times that his savings will carry him through the bad times. The farmer at present receives little more than half of the consumer's dollar for his products. The remainder is used for shipping, processing, distributing, wholesale and retail profits. When the farmer can increase his share of the consumer's dollar, and it has been shown that it can be done by co-operative marketing, co-operative processing, the absorption of more of the marketing procedure by the farmer himself, than he will have increased his income to a point where he can afford a poor season.

Action On Sidewalks

The decision of the Newmarket town council to go ahead with the installation of new sidewalks will be a most welcome one to the citizens, despite the $20,000 the job will cost. Newmarket's sidewalks have been a public disgrace of long standing, one which has drawn the most criticism from citizen and newcomer alike, possibly because it has been the most obvious fault. Improved sidewalks will not only restore some measure of pride in our town but will draw the friendly comment of visitors instead of the criticism we all of us have heard.

It is a sad fact but the physical facilities of a municipality like roads and sidewalks have a definite lifetime. Careful maintenance can prolong the life of roads and sidewalks but in time, the cost of maintenance becomes higher than the cost of replacement. If this principle were accepted and provision made for regular replacement of roads and sidewalks as needed, the cost could be spread evenly over the years.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

After thinking about human nature, I think maybe the hermit of Vivian Forest is a wise old sage. Goats can be much more amiable social companions.

Politicians have been screaming at each other, newspapers telling lies about what's going on and editorializing bitter truths about each other and I just tried not to be sick until election day was over.

A politician's biggest weapon is human nature. All he has to do at a big congregation is start shouting about the sins and corruption of his opponents while he himself is lit up by a halo of virtue. People go for that because they like to join in and pretend they are all virtuous people, too.

It must be a great relief after election day when all the politicians can stop being virtuous and sink back into a more human pattern of existence.

Speaking of human nature, the other day I heard a dignitary say that anyone who criticizes this country ought to go back to where he came from. It makes me think of the quotation I gave last week from the Daily Shinker, "We are the only democracy. Anyone of us who does not believe in democracy is immediately shot." Or the satirist who said with Georgia on his mind that those colored men ought to be glad they are lynched in a land of freedom and liberty and not in any of those old world countries of darkness and oppression.

On referring to thoughts on human nature, I think of a lot of people who set themselves up as judges and juries for their fellow men. Whenever there is some wretch who has got himself into some trouble, the news travels faster than a church scandal and various people set themselves up as a tribunal. They decide whether the prisoner at the bar will be ostracized from the social circle. All the time the judges and juries have been harboring their own secret crimes such as double-crossing their business partners or stealing from their grandmothers.

The old hermit of Vivian Forest has no social tribunal conducting a high commission enquiry into his social morality. Even if there was one, he wouldn't give a darn because all he has to consider is his goats. Wouldn't you rather consider only goats? Goats will love you or not and whether you bath with carbolio soap or not isn't going to make any difference.

I was out at the Vivian Forest last Friday and interviewed one of the old goats who is part of the hermit's herd. "Me and the hermit fed along fine," he said. "The old boy told me once that he was fed up with humans and would like to have a place of his own so he could get away from them all. So me and him bought this place for a song and here live happily ever after."

"Hermit," he added, "is the only humans us goats can get along with." I am beginning to think these days that goats are the only amiable companions, too.

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

The election is over all the charges, counter-charges, with nice and mean things said. We all have heard the parties tell what is to be done for the farmer. The question comes, what is the farmer going to do for himself?

We do not mind people taking sides at election time. In the past all governments have had to have some pressure before acting for any group, and there is no reason to believe that it will not be so with the new government.

The writer is a veteran of the first world war and took up farming just before the depression of the 30's when prices went as low as $3 per 100 lbs. for hogs live weight and ten cents per bag for 90 lb. bag of potatoes. Payments had to be met even when the kiddies had to do without. In York county there are plenty of world war I veterans who were leaders in the war. We old sweat are over the hard road but there are plenty of world war II vets that have started farming. These boys find it hard to finance their concerns when there is such a fluctuation of farm prices.

I would call on the old vets to organize a township unit of the federation of agriculture. We soldiers know what organization did for us in the war. When everyone does his part the whole goes ahead. If the soldiers take the lead our other farmer friends will fall in line. The younger vets may be timid to stand out and take the lead in farm organization. Not so with the old boys—they can take it with a smile. First objective is township units, next some kind of price control for agricultural produce. We must have an export market to take our surpluses. We must have a constant supply. We can't hold a market if we can't supply the goods. We can't keep the farmer in production if the price is not held steady somewhere. So as not to have too great a surplus we will have to control production. Farmers do not like controls, and we do not like a surplus and below cost of production price.

In the past the farmer did not worry past the farm gate. Today we have to contend with the weather, bugs and parasites, all kinds of blights. When we win the fight over all those things, we have to start and fight for a price.

In finance we marched to the tune of Where Are the Boys of the Old Brigade? We find them in both county and township council. We need some seasoned troops to organize farmers. The York county council has taken action on a by-law to control the cutting of trees in the county. Some farmers cut their bush lot off, pasture the young trees, let their land go to weeds to blow over on a good farmer's land. If it is the lack of knowledge they should be told, if it is lack of finance they should be helped, if just pure greed, fall in the guard—take them away.

One reeve said that in his township a control by-law would not be acceptable, to let the trees reseed themselves. The by-law should cover pasturing wood lots. It is time we stopped fooling around and got down to business on conservation.

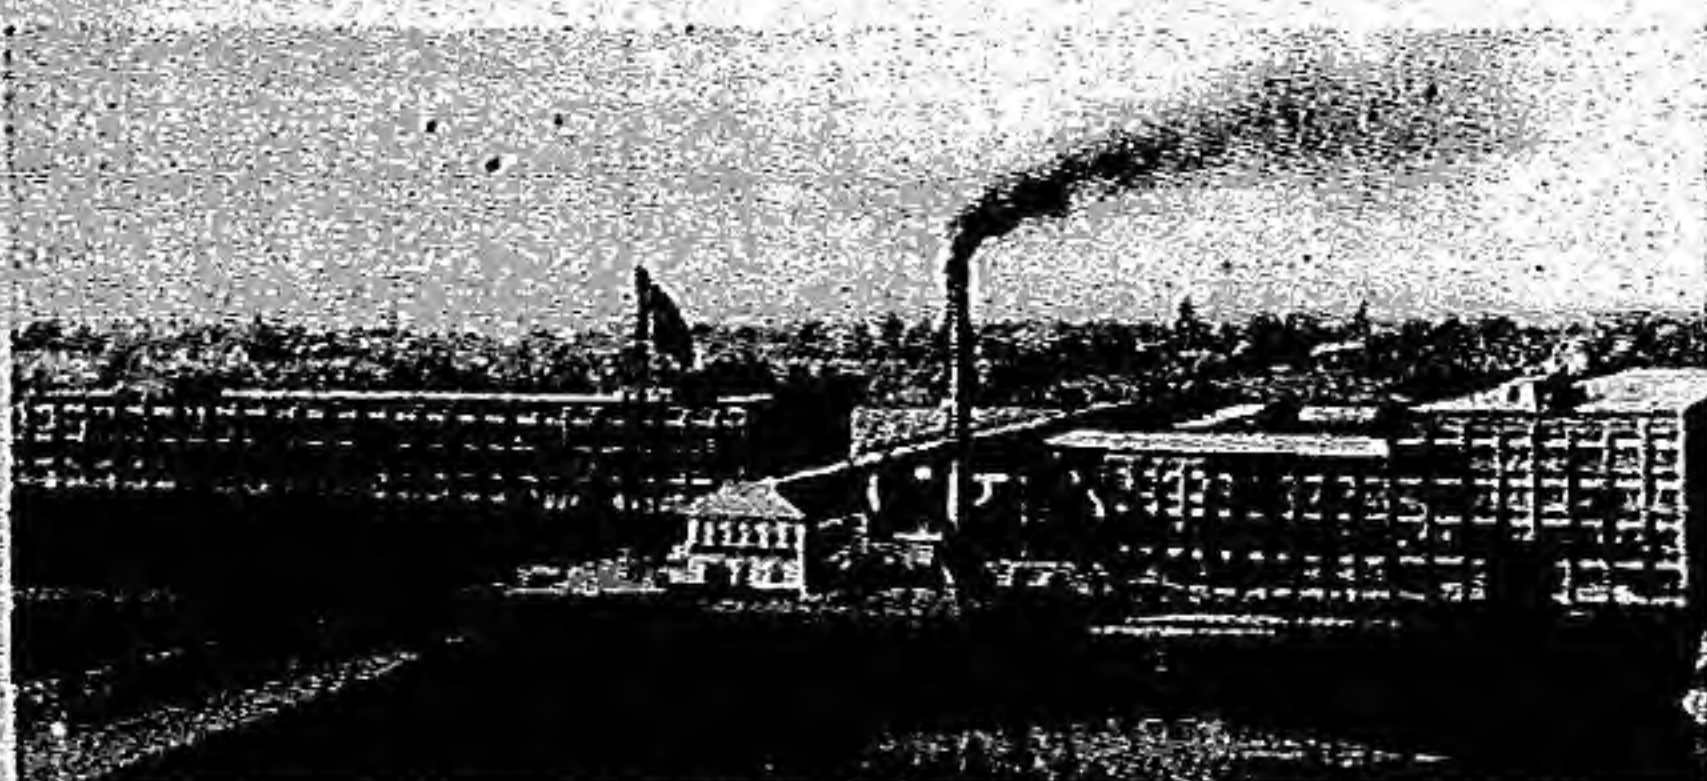

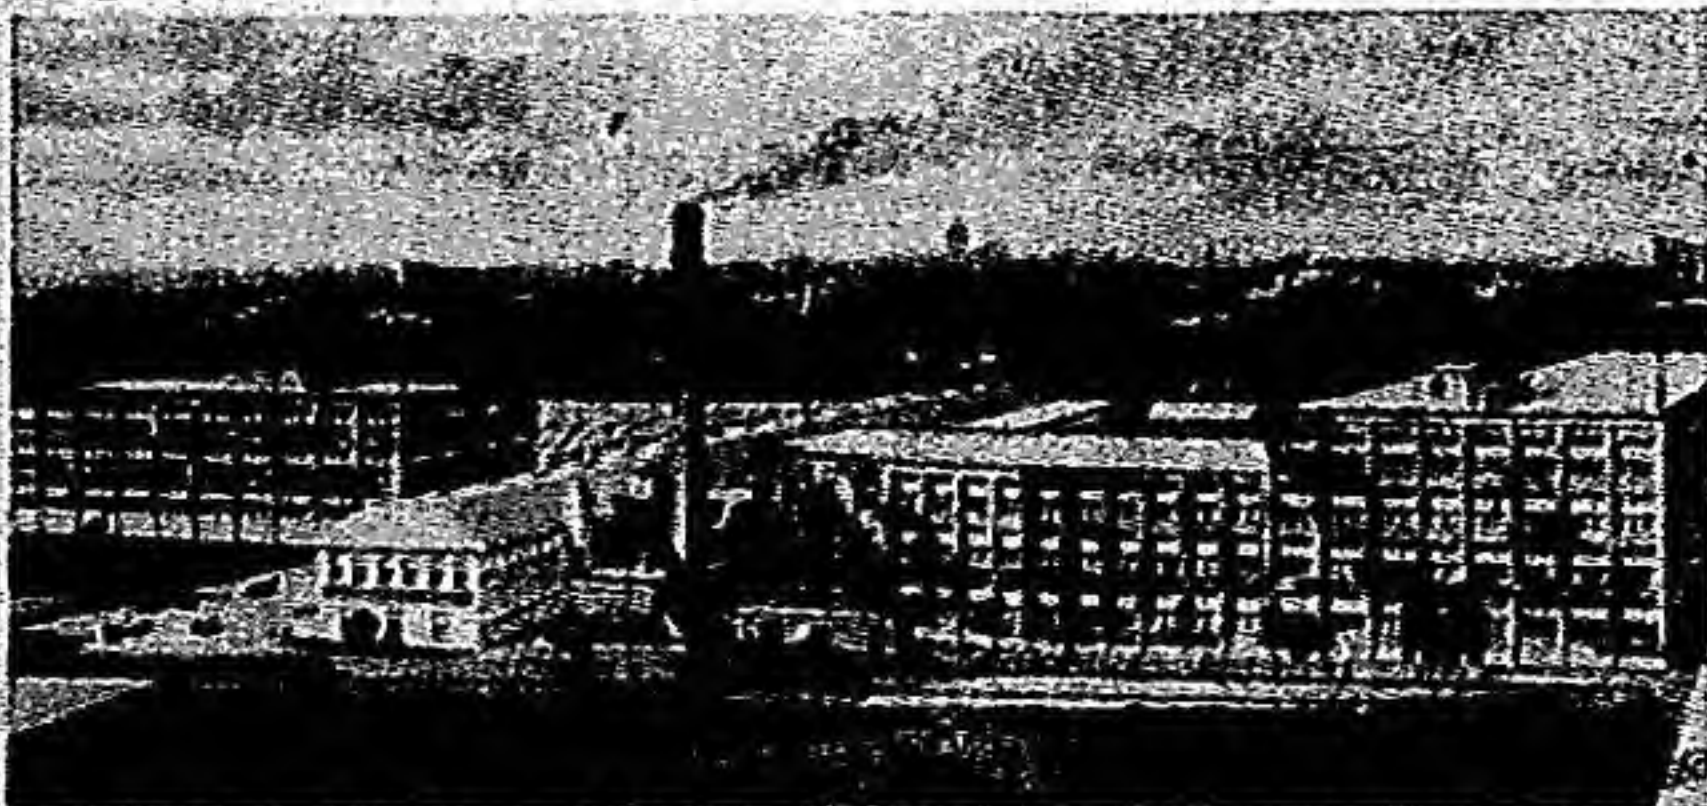

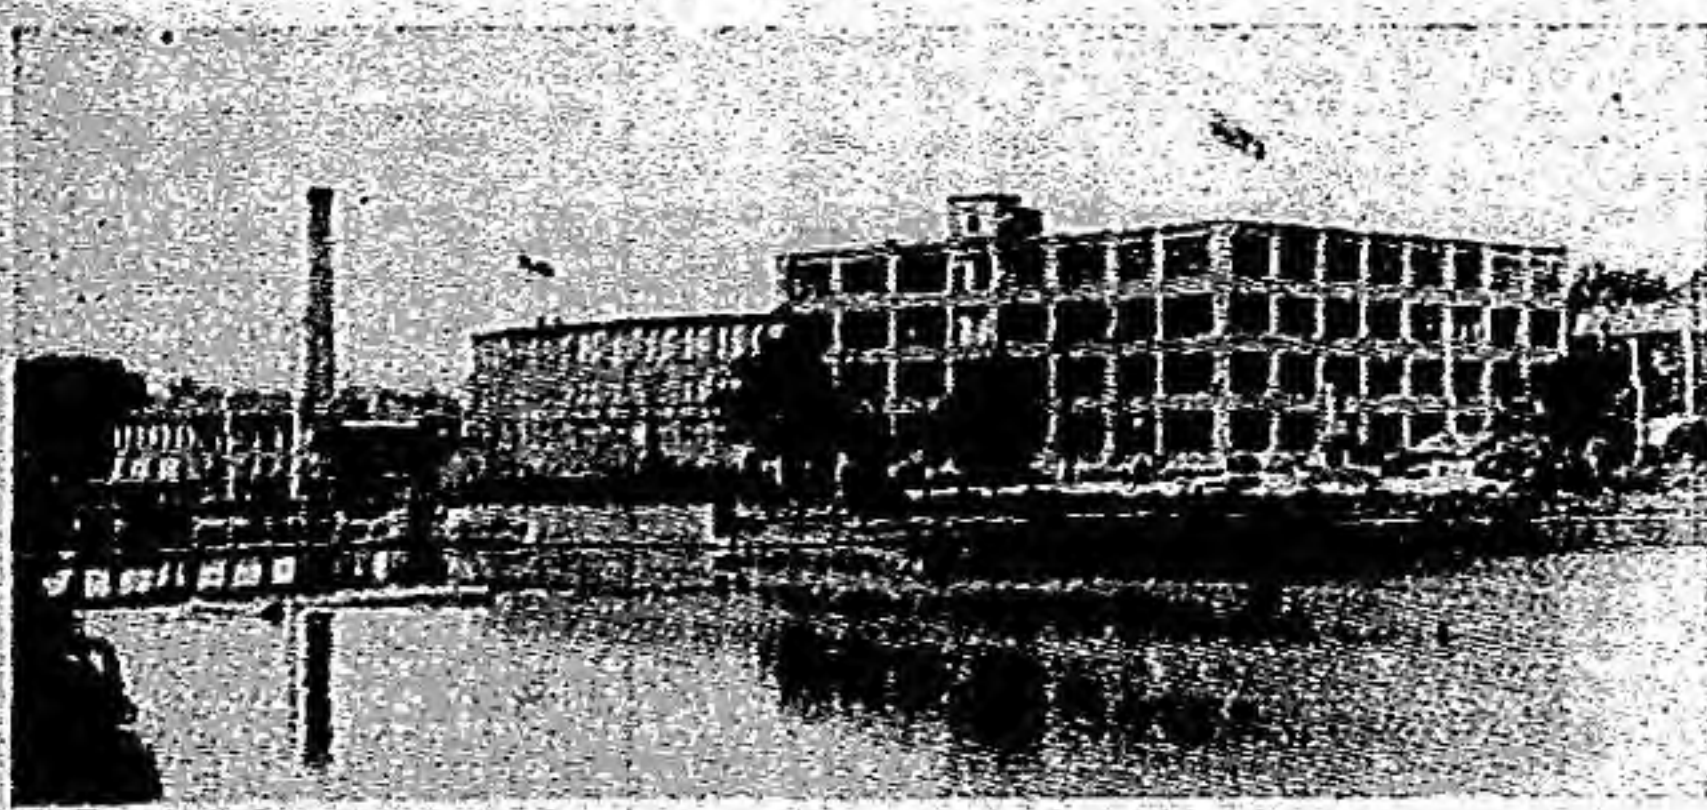

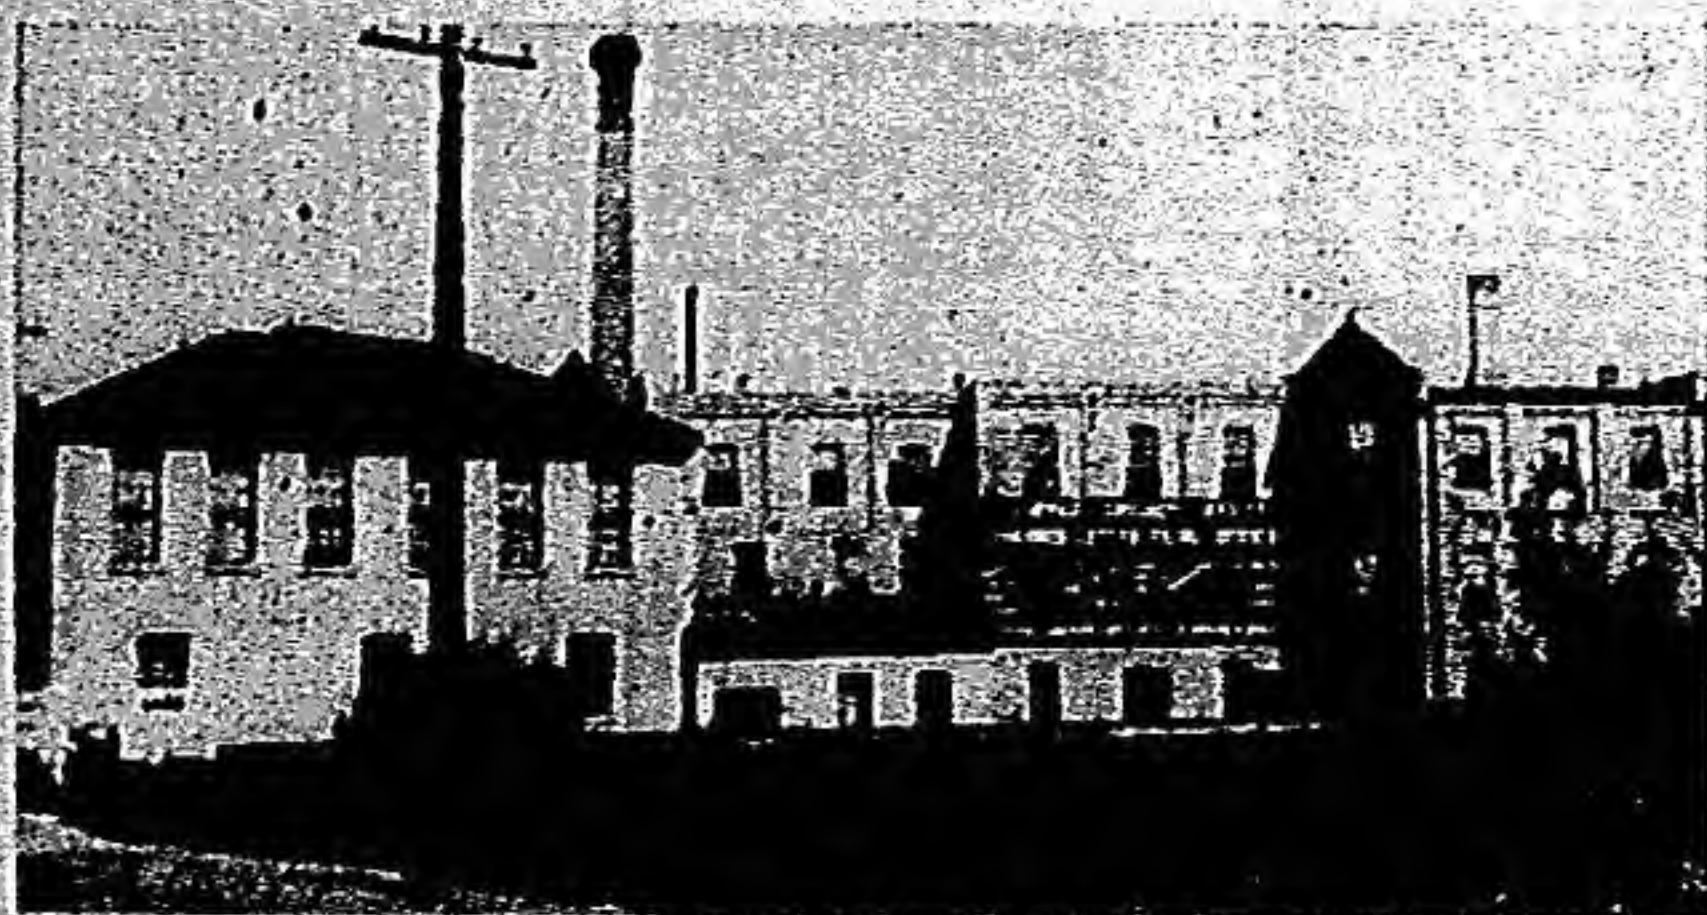

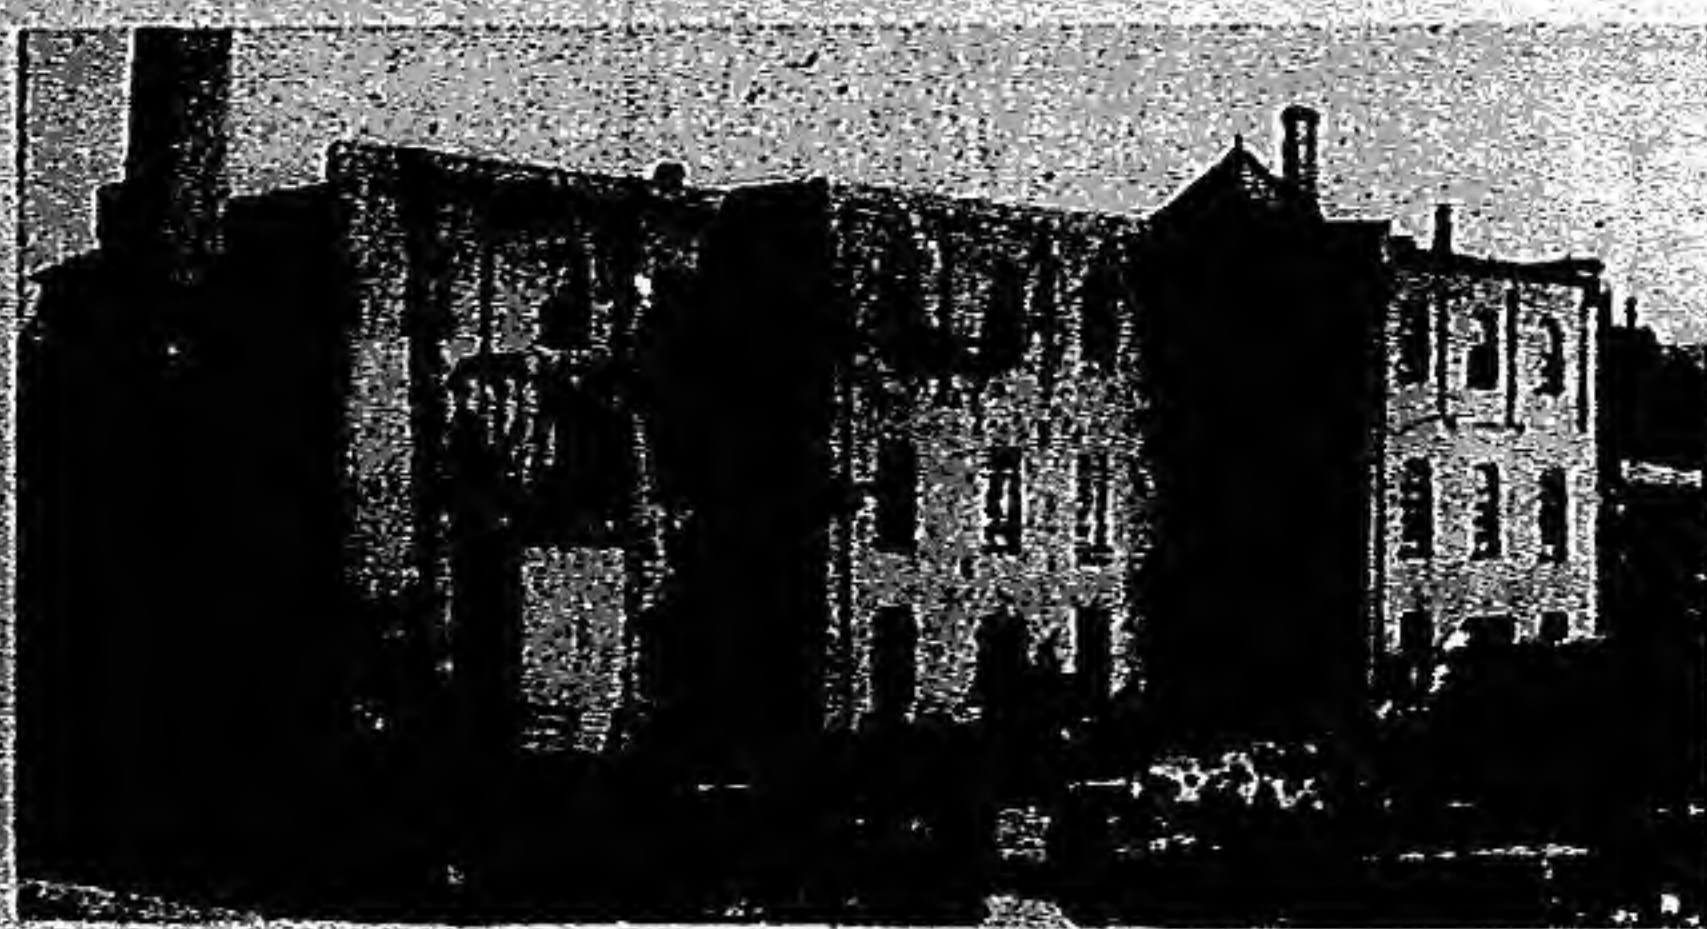

We farmers this summer begin to realize what it is to be without moisture. The fertile, well tilled land is giving a half a crop, and run down, fall worked land is without crop.

We need leadership on the farm, not from Ottawa or Toronto. It is all right to stand on a platform or over the air and talk. The only place to start is back on the farm, an organized farm unit in every school section in York county. Then we will have real support for our federation of agriculture. Cheerio.

Local Pioneer Industry Occupies Fine New Offices

Recent weeks have marked the attainment of another important goal for The Office Specialty Mfg. Co. Ltd., whose consistently progressive career in the Newmarket area began over sixty years ago . . . the official opening and occupation of their new offices adjacent to the metal plant at Prospect and Gorham streets.

Constructive planning, vision and a faith in the future of Canadian business has, through the enterprise and efforts of the management, brought to fruition a long-cherished dream of "Office Specialty" . . . an office that would not only most efficiently serve the needs of their own dominion-wide business, but to serve as an exemplary setting and showplace for, and worthy of, the fine office equipment which they manufacture.

Inspection of the new offices, inside and out, convinces even the casual observer how completely this dream has been fulfilled. The building itself is a model of fine designing, engineering and decoration and is equipped with and serviced by the most modern facilities for lighting, heating and communication.

The offices are completely "Office Specialty" equipped even to the glass and steel partitions; the general offices, occupying three floors, are fitted entirely with their own smart "Imperial" line of steel desks, aluminum chairs, "New Hercules" filing cabinets, Visidex visible filing units, etc., etc. The finish on all equipment—their exclusive "Neutra-Tone Gray" with satin chrome trimmings makes a happy combination with the light green of the walls and the red chair coverings, imparting an atmosphere of harmony and efficiency throughout the entire ensemble.

The executive offices and directors' room provide striking examples of the fine quality wood furniture which "Office Specialty's" designers and craftsmen have, and are, making for the directors of business, large and small, all over Canada. The modern-design mahogany suite in the office of Mr. Manning, the vice-president, and the board room are particularly impressive and have a quality of eye-appeal which one would go far to find a peer.

The removal of the company's offices to new quarters has accomplished another important purpose, namely, their long-standing need for larger factory space which the ever-increasing demand for "Office Specialty" products has necessitated. The vacated space has enabled machinery extensions and wider scope in the production of filing systems and supplies and, in particular, their new popular aluminum office chairs. The management feel that with the relief in these formerly congested areas, the path has been cleared for a greater all-round production of the many other lines so urgently demanded by their sales organization from Halifax to Vancouver.

The unique combination of "Office Specialty's" three plant divisions, Metal, Wood and "Paper", each equipped with the most modern machinery for shaping, tooling and processing enables the adaptation and unification of all their products in harmonizing design and synchronized function. Steel filing cabinets for every purpose, desks and matched suites in steel and wood, chairs of wood, steel and aluminum, safes, ledger trays, bookcases, lockers, shelving, partitions, filing systems, card records, visible records and filing devices . . . these are but a few of the many products which enable "Office Specialty" to provide a service so comprehensive as to be without parallel anywhere in the office equipment field.

With the continued expansion in business all over Canada the prospects for greater production and employment for "Office Specialty" seems more than ever assured.

Break Into Schoolhouse
Steal Pupils' Radio

Mr. Pisgah—Sometime during the past weekend our local school house was broken into and papers scattered around. Whoever the guilty ones were who did this damage certainly have neither love nor thought for our children. A valuable radio was taken that they had purchased with their own personal savings.
There are all kinds of thieves
but we think there are none worse than those who would steal from children.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

LADIES' NIGHT AND LADIES' DAY

Do any of you feel as I do, that bends in the road are mysterious?
You never know what may be hiding just around the next corner—a little house with quaint windows nestled against a hill; a herd of contented cows lying in a circle, no doubt discussing their importance in our social economy;
a flock of crows in their formal blacks, no doubt holding a crow parliament to exchange views on where the best corn fields lie, how to avoid certain guns and no doubt to laugh over some scarecrows.

There may be a little pool like a shining mirror where you'd love to stop and watch the sunset pictured on its crystal surface.

Some of these things Archie, Hilda and I saw as we journeyed last Wednesday evening to The Briars Golf and Country club, Jackson's Point, where the Lions club was celebrating ladies' night and we of the minstrel show orchestra were its guests.

It was a perfect evening in perfect surroundings. The scorched lawns and drooping flowers of our homes had given place to the greenness of well watered places and from every bush and tree birds sang madly and gladly.

As we looked down the long table faces familiar and faces unfamiliar met our view, but when, as we ate, a very delicious chicken dinner, McCaffrey, Luesby and West took over and led us in song and story, everyone joined in and singing and eating went on harmoniously together.

Later, with the banquet hall cleared, people gathered round for the floor show.

A dancer, a ventriloquist and a magician led us into the land-of-make-believe and for awhile we were all children again as the magician pulled $5 bills out of lemons and unearthed treasures from other unlikely places. But the amount of dry goods he pulled, apparently, from his mouth made most of us wish we hadn't eaten so much dinner. But he certainly demonstrated that the hand is quicker than the eye. It was a good show.

There for a little while we were back in the minstrel show again as Mr. Walker took us to the Alabama Barbaque, Terry Duane sang to us of Old Man River and invited us to a Louisiana Hayride and we planted a watermelon with Ken Ponting and cruised down the river with Gene McCaffrey.

After this there was dancing and then we drove home through the beauty and the wonder of a starlit Canadian night, and our journey was made pleasanter by the thought of the hospitality of the Lions club.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week, the Bogartown Women's Institute listened to Mrs. Louis Boyar as she told us of the pleasures and pains of weaving and showed us some really wonderful specimens of the art, for although I suppose it's a craft, it's an art, too, for only an artistic soul could combine colors in such delightful ways.

Linen, cotton, wool—all these we saw made into attractive articles. Mrs. Boyar told us of the evolution of the present looms from the ponderous and clumsy ones of our grandmothers' day. All in all it was a most enjoyable talk.

The committee in charge of the meeting, which by the way was held at the home of Mrs. L. J. Harper, sang a delightful roundelay which, as mentioned most of the members, took the audience by storm.

Little Donna Barber, Newmarket, played twice to a most appreciative audience and Mrs. Roy Harper read a fine article on weaving.

A fruit salad, cake and tea were enjoyed along with the sociability such a function always brings.

There was the day on which we were all supposed to vote and we can only hope, for the sake of our democratic pride, that it wasn't mostly supposition. Why does going to vote put the same expression on all sorts of faces—grim determination?

Well, we'll soon know who will lead us for the next few years, but only we who voted will have the right to find fault if things do not suit us.

efit of the gentlemen. When the

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE E. ION

June to some means roses, graduations and weddings. To many a busy mother it means the last frantic effort to have the children's clothes ready in time for camp, or a start on the summer long task of canning, preserving and jam making for the winter months, or both and more. To the young ones, that long awaited time—summer holidays—has finally arrived. Impatiently they have watched the slowly passing hours of the last week of school drag by. Was any other week ever so long? Wild hoops of joyous anticipation echo around the play grounds as they race from the school buildings to weeks of play in the sun.

However, to many June will remain as a highlight on the conversational front—there was the weather as well as the whether of June 27. Wonder how many words were written on both of these subjects this month? Election meetings, fiery debates, heated controversies vied with hot, humid weather as topics of discussion. Yes, June made a rather impressive showing.

Eighty-two years young tomorrow with a future bright with the promise of new achievements—that's our country. Sometimes we think that there is more celebrating done on May 24 than on Dominion Day. Everywhere we hear it said that Canadians always sell their own country short, but none of us wants to cultivate boastfulness as a national trait. What then can we do as individuals to aid our nation to reach its full maturity?

Speaking at the Canadian Women's Press club convention in Vancouver last Thursday, Byrne Hope Saunders, editor of Chatelaine Magazine, said "Canada is a power among the nations of the world and the average person is really not aware of the prestige accorded Canada in other lands." She challenged women journalists to write "with power and vigor of the real Canadian way of life." "The great thing right now is to sell Canada to the world by writing about Canadians." By encouraging Canadian talent in the theatre—the Straw Hat Players, for example—by developing crafts and hobbies particularly associated with our country—the local art group and the weavers—by making happy hospitality synonymous for Canada and so attract an increasing number of tourists—all these are things which each of us can do as our gift to our own country on its birthday.

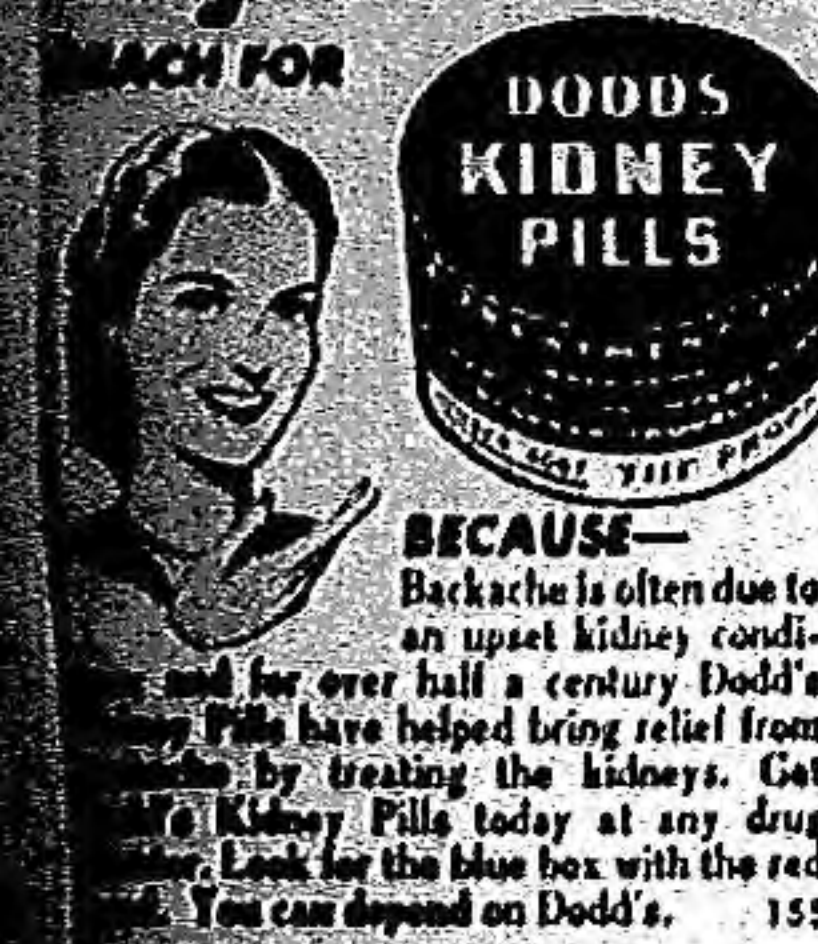

Fashion notes: The dress of the season is the suntan number with its convenient small bolero—a welcome change after last season's bare midriff fashion. In dark colors it fits into the business atmosphere of the office and sans jacket is a fashion certainty for leisure hours. Cool sheers of voile, dotted swiss and all those other fine materials which for the past few years have been reserved for tiny tots' dresses, stand high in the preferences of fashion conscious women. Freshness even on the stickiest day—that's the aim. Experts predict that the very large bracelets will be worn again this fall with the new push-up sleeves.

Safety—this is a topic which is always timely, but perhaps with this weekend's mass exodus of holidayers to summer cottages and resorts, it is even more vital. The tragedy of water accidents is reported daily in our papers and so frequently the drownings were the result of wanton disregard for the simple rules of water safety. Everyone knows that it is dangerous to swim in unsupervised waters; that one should never swim alone or within two hours after a full meal; that when the boat overturns, it is wisest to cling to the boat rather than to attempt the swim to shore, especially when wearing shoes, etc.; and the other rules which are really only common sense applied to the sport of swimming and boating. Youngsters need to be taught that it is never "smart" to dive directly into cool water on a hot day without first splashing the arms, neck and face; that the show-off endangers the lives of others as well as his own and that to dive into strange waters without first investigating the depth, type of bottom, etc., is inviting a broken neck. If these water safety rules are instilled into youngsters at their earliest associations with swimming the battle against this form of wastage in young lives will be won. Don't let preaching and a terror of accidents mar your holiday, but instead plan and teach the proper ways and enjoy the refreshing summer swims with a free mind.

THE HOMEMAKERS

Spotlight On Strawberries

Discussion of strawberries for July menus seems to be quite superfluous to most people. Who wants anything better than ripe, red strawberries and cream or old time strawberry short-cake. Certainly the dessert problem is solved for awhile.

However, there is the task of extending the berry season into the winter months by preserving them in various ways. Because of the juiciness and soft texture of strawberries they collapse and lose color unless good methods are used. Also, because most people prefer rather sweet fruit, the berries often rise to the top of the sealer, making the finished produce rather unattractive. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, have found the method that is completely satisfactory. The secret is in letting the berries stand in the hot syrup until they plump out. This also helps to set the color.

There are two methods, hot pack and cold pack. 1. Cold Pack—Wash, hull. Bring to boil slowly in syrup. Cover, remove from heat and let stand from one to three hours. Pack in sealers, leaving one-half inch head-space. Partially seal and process pint sealers, 15 minutes in boiling water or 20 minutes in the oven, at 275 degrees. Process quart sealers 15 minutes in boiling water bath or in oven at 275 degrees for 25 minutes.

2. Hot Pack—Wash, hull. Bring syrup to boil and add strawberries. Cover, remove from heat and let stand one to three hours. Bring to boil and pack hot, leaving one-half inch headspace. Partially seal sealers and process pint or quart sealers, ten minutes in boiling water bath or 20 minutes in the oven, 275 degrees.

Syrup to use — medium or heavier. One cup sugar to one cup water... makes about one and one-half cups syrup. For one quart sealer one to one and one-half cups syrup is necessary for the cold pack method. When canning strawberries by the hot pack method, use the minimum amount of syrup suggested for the cold pack.

Strawberry Jam
6 Cups strawberries
2 1/2 Cups sugar

Wash and hull berries. Leave whole. Add sugar and let stand two hours. Drain. Bring juice to boil and boil ten minutes. Add berries and cook, uncovered, 15 minutes. Pour into hot, sterilized jars, cool slightly, then pour on a layer of melted paraffin wax and leave until hardened. Add a second layer of melted wax, rotating the jar so that the wax will adhere to the side of the glass to form a close seal. Yield: 4 1/2 cups.

Strawberry Jam
8 Cups crushed strawberries (4 quart boxes)
6 Cups sugar

Wash, hull, crush and measure. Bring to boil and process 15 minutes, uncovered. Add sugar, bring to boil and boil 12 to 15 minutes, uncovered to jam stage. Pour into hot, sterilized jars, cool slightly, then pour on a layer of melted paraffin wax and leave until hardened. Add a second layer of melted wax, rotating the jar so that the wax will adhere to the side of the glass to form a close seal. Yield: 6 1/2 cups.

28.5% Women Voters Neglect Marking Ballot

Newmarket — Newmarket women are as interested in political matters as are the men or so it would appear from the comparative figures of Monday's voters. Of the approximate 1,532 women whose names appeared on the voters' lists, all but about 437 exercised their franchise. Broken up into wards the approximate calculations read:

Ward	On List	Didn't Vote
St. Patrick's	430	95
St. Andrew's	532	166
St. George's	570	176
	1,532	437

Where were these 28.5 per cent of the female vote that they neglected their duty as citizens? Perhaps herein lies the reason for the failure of all of the 15 women candidates to be elected as members of the federal house. In the 1945 election, 18 women accepted the invitation to run for office with only one being successful, Mrs. Gladys Strum, C.C.F. On Monday this only woman member of the last parliament went down in defeat to Liberal, A. Dewar. This will be the first time since 1921 that there will be no woman member of the House of Commons.

Last Sunday was the last session of the Sunday-school till September. The parents of Rev. J. T. Rhodes arrived from England last week for an extended visit at the rectory.

Library Notes

By MRS. GEORGE CASE

This week I should like to tell about two books which will have a special appeal to those who take pleasure in gardens and birds. Even if you aren't aware of an interest in this field, you will find the reading of these books pleasurable in itself.

The first book is "Garden Facts and Fancies" by a man who has a number of other books on gardens and gardening to his credit, Alfred C. Hottes. In his foreword Mr. Hottes says that if a person knows something of the poetry, stories and legends about gardens his enjoyment of digging and weeding and watching his garden grow will be enhanced. This then is a book containing the thoughts of many people about gardens expressed in prose and verse.

There is much that is practical, with many suggestions for planting and caring for a garden and much full of the sense of beauty, mysticism and joy. For sheer pleasure read the chapter on "Old-Fashioned Gardens" or "The Gardener's Answer to Our Quest for Happiness." The book is generously and beautifully illustrated in black and white drawings done by the author.

The second book is "Birds in the Garden and How to Attract Them," by Margaret McKenny. This is a beautifully-bound book, set in particularly pleasing type, of altogether fine workmanship. There are colorful pictures of 43 garden birds and 86 splendid photographs. It is a treat just to look through the book and to read it is an inspiration.

The author gives detailed descriptions of garden birds, a list of plants to attract birds, garden plans for bird sanctuaries and much more practical information.

This is a book which will make good summer reading when you are perhaps planning on changes in the garden for another year.

The Danger of Learning

Ralph, a teenager about to complete first year of university, has ideas as to how to change the universe.

At home within the family circle and among former friends, Ralph is becoming more and more obnoxious because of concealed ideas, recently acquired through association with some university "smarts."

Ralph's parents have worked hard all their lives in order to give their three children educational advantages they never had. Ralph's reaction to a bit of higher education is grieving his parents. They are determined that the two younger members of the family won't have more than high school education and as soon as they are old enough to quit school, they can.

It seems too bad that the example set by Ralph is to have its effect on his younger brother and sister—that of depriving them of higher education that they might be able to assimilate without losing their senses of value. Yet, the parents can't be blamed for the attitude they have been forced to take in the matter. Not only has their money been wasted, but their son's whole future has been wasted unless he awakens to the fact that others' rights must be respected.

Progressive education seeks to develop individuals to the extent of their capacities, with a view to helping them become happy and useful citizens able to co-operate in the best interests of their community. If education fails to make good citizens of its pupils, it fails to be of service either to individuals or communities. The responsibility of leaders in education is to help individuals develop their initiatives, with a view to achieving worthy goals. Leaders in education as in other fields have the responsibility of setting fine examples for youth to follow. Besides being self-respecting, they must respect the talents and abilities of others and by their example inspire others along lines of tolerance and fairness to fellow-men.

One of the highlights, however, was the visit to the birthplace of the late famous actress, Marie Dressler. Here the living-room is still furnished with beautiful antique walnut pieces, pictures, etc., of long ago. One lady resident has a hobby of collecting precious buttons, which are in frames and she has over 6,000 varieties. Although a cottage home, there are now three dining-rooms where meals are served the year round. Over 10,000 guests were served last year, we were told.

The men folk then viewed the race tracks and the ships, the women toured the shopping centres, the young folks the beach and recreation grounds. Supper was served in the pavilion as a good shower of rain came about 6 o'clock. At seven we left and travelling through Oshawa and Whitby, up to Markham, the ground was noticeably dryer, showing less bountiful crops.

By means of radio in the bus we had the day's news and with the aid of the mike and cheer leaders enjoyed a hearty sing-song all the way home. A vote of thanks was tendered the visitors who joined us by the president, Mrs. John Farr. Three cheers and a yell for the Hobby club and driver Al Roberts who has been at the wheel for three or four consecutive trips, brought a pleasant journey to an end.

Members are asked to remember the July meeting on the 19th at Mrs. C. Rollings' cottage, Lake Simcoe. A day like this calls for everyone to bring some lunch and bathing suits.

More Telephone Workers...

AND HIGHER WAGES HAVE GREATLY INCREASED OUR COSTS

IN THE PAST five years the number of employees has doubled and our payroll has gone up from 20 million dollars to over 50 million dollars. Yet, up to now, despite rising costs on all sides there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago.

To meet unprecedented post-war demand for more telephones, our expansion and improvement of service have of necessity taken place in a period of rapidly rising costs. Most businesses have offset their higher costs by higher prices for their products. We have not yet done so.

You can be sure we will keep on doing our best to provide you with adequate and constantly improving telephone service — and to provide it at the lowest rates consistent with a fair return to our investors and employees.

News n' Views

By GEORGE HASKETT

Magie words these: Holiday time is here. The shortest and swiftest two weeks are on our doorstep. Likely to be and side for rounders on the corner concession. The Vets, says "Cecars" McDonald, are working on cancellation of their pair scheduled with Woodbridge and Aurora. Frank Courtney and his schedule makers fixed the situation so there won't be a thing to worry about except keeping out of mischief and enjoying a well earned siesta. That leaves us with our lacrosse flock who carry on through the vacation period. "Shorty" Turan has Beeton intermediates in for a go next Wednesday.

Hey, look here department. Can it be true? Indeed it is our lacrosse Redmen are up with a win. A feather in the cap of coach Matt Walsh and assistant manager Larry Sheffe who have been doing a man sized job. The Redmen manufactured their win the hard way right in Port Hope. A first in two years. Last Thursday was regular Hartsfield-McCoy swing and swap. Maitlands, rated around the circuit as the Badinskis, lived to their rep. Bill Hefner, a top flight runner, went to the hospital for two days. Can't recall a previous shut-out over the past two years.

It doesn't seem possible when we look today, that is after that five-game winning skein our ladies have been on, to find Midland perched up alongside them. The two front scorers don't tie into each other until very last game. That may settle first position.

The shortening process was in effect this past week in the Lake Simcoe circuit. We mean the lopping off the Mount Albert lead. It all but reached the vanishing point with Zephyr putting the Mounties to sleep last week by a 9-3 margin. Up in the Simcoe circuit fans are taking a liking to Pine Orchard and Mount Albert and their chances to snap up the Stan Cook trophy.

Haskett's hash. The baseballers have been active on their diamond this past week. A pat on the back to a handful of chaps headed by Cliff Gunn and Carl Turan for their part in the improved conditions. Ross Chapman was chief coach and scout for both the York County Junior Farmers, ladies' and men's softball sides at Guelph last Friday. Ross watched his men's team go out before Bruce county. The ladies were eliminated early by South Simcoe. Herbert Sabourin is the new secretary-treasurer of the North York major softball loop. He replaces "Dinty" Moore.

A hot time in the old town from all accounts when the Vets visited Aurora last Thursday with league leadership on the line. The teams battled to a one-all no decision. Umpire Bobby Bell having his fill at the end of five and departed for home. Keith Davis has the tennis league teams in action this week. Mr. Tennis says he still has some moments for the juniors and is continuing classes on Saturday mornings. Call him for particulars.

Ladies' softball still draws the biggest fan attendance. The Vets hope to stage a rubber match with Orillia Legion after the holidays. Series stands at a game each. The tilt here between these was "the best" of the season.

Well, happy and carefree holidays, my friendlies.

Decision Protested Ump Takes A Walk

Umpire Bob Bell made district softball history and brought to an abrupt close a battle royal between Newmarket Vets and Aurora Meteors at Aurora last night when he walked off the diamond and refused to continue to officiate. The teams were tied 1-1 in the bottom half of the sixth, with one out and Earl Macdonald, fleet Aurora first baseman, on third. When McComb unloosed a wild pitch, Macdonald streaked for home and appeared to hit the plate about the same time catcher Fred Hammond got the ball to McComb.

Bell appeared to signal "Mac" safe and then flashed the "out" sign. The decision brought a howl of protest from the Aurora fans and players, and a debate ensued between Bell and Loring "Gabby" Doolittle, Aurora centre-fielder, which put to shame anything last week's politicians tried to stage. It was good enough to at least rate the U.N.O. With Bell refusing to continue, Prexy Fred. Morris, who was in the crowd, attempted to get the managers to agree on a neutral official to continue but the flare-up had taken so long with darkness descending it looked as if an unsatisfactory ending to the game might ensue so the game became "no contest." As a result the once beaten Vets and the unbeaten Meteors were right back where they started in the league standing.

It was a sorry ending to a game that had just about everything and saw Teddy Bennett and Joint McComb locked in a mound duel with smart support and the hits few and far between. Aurora had outbait Newmarket 4-3, with Earl Macdonald the individual star of the contest. Earl bashed out two doubles in three trips to the plate and made an unassisted double-play at first in a sparkling fielding effort. Red Castles also had made two brilliant catches and Normie Legge of the Vets had pulled off a couple of running beauties.

No one present could recall a similar ending.

Time Short For Those Ice Plants

Three months from now the leaves are taking on their autumn tints and you and I are breathing sighs of relief that the "Ex" is over and the doggone hot spells have departed, the professional hockey players will be re-reporting along with promising amateurs for training. A few weeks later, the National Hockey League will get underway, and along about that time, slumbering king hockey will sound a blast to awaken the team sponsors and players in North York. Then it is that the boys in Aurora and Newmarket will be seeking time on artificial ice for practices in order to take stock for the year and get the jump on the opposition.

Yes, we used the word "seeking" in referring to artificial ice practices, and with that, by direct inference, the 1950 hockey season. It is a matter of record that in canalton, the plans for artificial ice have been under way for three months now, and in Aurora the municipal council and arena commissioners have had the green light "on" since April 29. Unlike the folks in Newmarket, where a proposed 50-50 proposition is to be worked out between the council and the recreation commission, the Aurora scheme provides all the ready cash necessary. There hasn't been a sod turned, or any construction work done as yet in either arena and the chances of having them ready for operation this winter becomes remoter with every passing day.

As we understand the situation at Aurora, the consent of the municipal board is necessary for the issuance of debentures. We know there is a lot of red tape to this, but there is no doubt of a favorable verdict from the board in view of the town's financial position. After that the debentures are issued and sold. It does seem to John Q. Public that in view of the urgency of action, if public opinion is to be followed, speed commensurate with due precaution could have been achieved. At Newmarket, as we get the picture, the commission raises one-half or all the money necessary to install the ice plant. If the latter they simply go ahead. If the former, then the town council will have to obtain a favorable vote of the electors to approve the spending of municipal funds to match the amount raised by N.R. commission. You can guess that the whole procedure taken at Aurora will be necessary at Newmarket on a 50-50 proposition. It may well be that at both centres those in charge have already ordered the necessary equipment and know the dates when the work will start and finish. Good public relations promotion still remains an essential to the projects. The general public is entitled to know what has been done to date, and what remains to be done.

Plan 8-Team Meet For Legion Field Day

Ab. Hulse is busy arranging a bang-up softball tournament for the Aurora branch 385, Canadian Legion field day, on Saturday, Aug. 20. An eight-team invitation tournament is planned and already Newmarket Vets, champions of North York; Buttonville, Markham township champs; Aurora, Silverthorn Legion, York township champions; and Brampton Legion, Legion intermediate finalists of '48, have accepted. Invitations are going forth to Cookstown, the South Simcoe champions; Mount Albert, the Lake Simcoe champions; and one other club. A trophy and prize money will be provided.

Mounts Get It

By GEORGE HASKETT

There's joy in the Lake Simcoe softball fandom, everywhere but in Mount Albert. Mount Albert was dumped twice and shoved off the top rung. First spot of gloom for Murray Roberts and his henchmen came with Zephyr breezing along to a 9-3 win. Gord Rynard, Clark Arnold and Johnny Meyers (no, not our editor) provided the hit music. Ron Kester served up a steady game.

Dot Menar and his Willow Beachers next joined the championship business. "Red" Mitchell and Cec. McNeill had a pitchers' duel. Verdict to McNeill 5-4. Mounties in front then wasted away.

Willow Beach is clicking in such a manner as to make their disciples happy. They cooled out Hope 15-2. Cec. McNeill moved along easily on 12 strikeouts. His mates pelted Lon. Ganton. Top Beachers with the willow Cec. McNeill with five, Dunc. Cameron and Royden Prosser three. Don. Cooper homered. Ken. Harman headed the Hope hitters with three safeties including a triple.

Vandorf was the third victim of the Beachers going under 12-8. Cec. McNeill on a nine strike-out run. Chief assistants Harold Wilkinson with four and Bob Winch with three hits. Bill Ellis and "Cab" Preston, Vandorf's top swingers.

That recent consignment of bats received by Keswick will bear investigation. They're full of base hits. Ron. Kester and his Zephyr Blues were banged into submission 11-4 Tuesday. Heavy artillery provided by Bob Pollock with a pair of important hits. Ken. Hodgins a three-run double and Publicity Man Claude Pollock homering with a full deck on the runways. Johnny Meyers and Ken. Pickering topped the Blues' stick work. Harold Smith maintained a shut-out until the fifth.

This is a chore we like to tell you about. Brownhill with a pair of wins, 17-14, over Queensville, first. "Mac" Chapman and Judd Rutledge for the Hill and Bob English and Geo. Evans, who shared the Queensville mound work, socked out homers.

Brownhill came alive in the last innings to down Sharon 7-6. Sharon up one to nothing at the end of five as Ivan Eves and Duff Sedore matched pitches.
